VOLUME IV, JUNE, 1926

Published by

THE SENIOR CLASS OF BROOKLINE HIGH SCHOOL

BROOKLINE, MASSACHUSETTS

Dedicatory

TO MR. ELMER CASE AS A VERY SMALL TOKEN
OF THE LOYAL ESTEEM WHICH WE BEAR TO
ONE WHO HAS FOR MANY YEARS BEEN A FAITHFUL FRIEND AND READY ADVISOR TO ALL
STUDENTS AND TEACHERS OF THE
BROOKLINE HIGH SCHOOL,
WE,
THE CLASS OF 1926,
WITH SINCERE AFFECTION AND APPRECIATION
DO DEDICATE THIS,
OUR YEAR BOOK.

Foreword

IN PRESENTING THIS, THE FOURTH VOLUME OF THE YEAR BOOK, THE CLASS OF 1926 EXPRESSES ITS APPRECIATION OF THE EXCELLENCE OF THE PRECEDING ISSUES AND THE INSPIRATION GAINED THEREFROM. IT EARNESTLY DESIRES THAT ITS EFFORT MAY PROVE OF EQUAL VALUE TO ITS SUCCESSORS AND THAT THIS RECORD OF ITS FRIENDSHIPS, ACTIVITIES AND SERVICES MAY REMAIN, AS THE YEARS PASS, A PRIZED MEMENTO OF THE BUSY HAPPY DAYS AT BROOKLINE HIGH SCHOOL.

President's Address

PARENTS, TEACHERS, AND FRIENDS:

It is one of the privileges of my position as President of the Senior Class to welcome you to the most important event of the year at Brookline High School. In all our anticipations of this event through four long years of struggle, we have counted on the presence of this great audience to make the day a success. We have had many meetings as a class during our four years in this school, but this is the first time that we have been honored by a gathering of spectators at one of our celebrations.

You have just witnessed the outdoor ceremonies in honor of this, our day, in which the whole school participated. You have also seen the customary ceremony of planting the ivy as a token of the gratitude and fidelity of our class to the school.

But now we are gathered for the indoor exercises which are more particularly our own. This part of the day is ours and yours with us as our welcome guests. You will hear in turn the history of our career from lowly freshmen to our present dignified prominence. You will hear the predictions in our class prophecy of the future now stretching before us bright in the distance; you will finally hear the class oration in eloquent comment on the occasion. The class poem and the class song, celebrating with rhythm and music our affection for this school, will also be heard.

To these final ceremonies of the Class of 1926 we bid you, our honored guests, a heartfelt welcome. In another fortnight we shall have gone on our separate paths perhaps never again to meet in common assembly as we have so often met together. This memorable June afternoon will soon be fading into evening, into night, and then be swallowed up in the mass of countless yesterdays; but for every one of us, members of the Class of 1926, for some who will be toiling in industry, for some in the field of business, and for still others in the higher and more difficult stages of education, it will stand out in our memory as one of the bright and shining landmarks on our long and toilsome journey through life.

ANDREW MURRAY, President.

Ivy Oration

FROM time immemorial the ivy has been held in most revered esteem, until today it has become a classic symbol. The noble edifices and sacred ruins of Europe are enshrined by its twisting vines. It is most fitting, therefore, that we, the class of 1926, should join in the traditional tribute of our predecessors in seeking to adorn, honor, and protect the walls of our Alma Mater.

ERIC F. SMITH.

Class History

HAROLD SINGER

(Enter Crabbed Age, followed by a Youth*)*

CRABBED AGE: Well, Youngster, you are now leaving grammar school, and next term you are destined to join the ranks of the Class of 1980 at Brookline High School. It is only fitting that you know some of the traditions of that glorious school. If you'll go into the library and get down album No. 3, I'll tell you about a class of long ago that established the best traditions, and accomplished the most worthy deeds, the Class of 1926.

(Young 1930 leaves the stage, procures huge album, and returns to his seat, placed a little in the rear of Old Man's chair.)

CRABBED AGE: You know, we were an extraordinary class right from the start. Why, the Town of Brookline had to appropriate $550,000 to erect additional High School buildings to accommodate us. Moreover, not only did the enormous appetite of our class make possible the magnificent lunch-room of to-day, but the Splendid at Coolidge Corner has flourished ever since.

(Youth begins to doze, and soon falls fast asleep, without Crabbed Age noticing him.)

Johnnie Burge and Bill Jerome had scarcely been assigned to home-rooms, when they appeared in football uniforms, and at the close of the season, it was announced that they both had won Varsity letters. A freshman class usually makes a mess of its elections for officers, and goes on the rocks. However, it showed good taste in electing John Burge, President, Katherine Sweet, Vice-President, Richard Gentle, Treasurer, and Dot Whelan, Secretary. About a week after these elections an article appeared in the Sagamore concerning bobbed hair. It stated that 240 girls out of the 600 at B. H. S. had bobbed hair. Room 37 led the list with six out of twelve girls who had abbreviated hirsute appendages. By the time we were graduated from B. H. S., I doubt if one could have found 240 girls in any high school who did not have bobbed hair. It is really surprising how much our freshman elections influenced the hair-dressing styles of a nation. Just about this time, Alec Beal was skiing at Hawes' Pond, when two youngsters broke through the ice and nearly drowned. Alec saved their lives by a timely rescue, a rescue worthy of any of the Rover Boys. After questioning them, however, he found out that some day they would belong to the Class of 1930 at B. H. S.; so he pushed them back into the icy waters of Hawes' Pond. Out of the eight competitors in Prize Speaking, Audrey Franklin, Martha Bird, James Levensohn, and William Mehegan more than represented our class. Nine of our masculine musicians played on the band; Levensohn made the circulation staff of the Sagamore; Andy Murray and Eric Smith were varsity track men; McGrath and Sims represented us on the ball diamond; Bob Hall and Joe Conway earned letters on the hockey team, while Ed Sexton played first-string tennis, and Ralph Johnston made his letter on the crew. The Wingate-McEttrick troupe of mermaids wore our colors in the tank, aided by Ruth Carl, and on the Gym floor, aided by Aimē Bourneuf. We set the stage for a triumphant ending to our first year by winning the Championship in the tug o' war on Class Day.

Returning to School in the autumn, our merit was rewarded by our initial occupation of the new building for an entire year. We opened the social season by giving the Class of 1927 the best reception any Freshman class had yet received. At this social, we instituted several new ideas which are still being used: the use of moving-pictures to entertain the Freshman, and the serving of refreshments in the old lunchroom. The committee in charge tried to select a picture symbolic of the Class of '26. They finally chose Agnes Ayres and Richard Dix in "Racing Hearts." We put our fortunes into the hands of Riccy Gentle, Grace Wickens, Frannie Wingate, and Bill Jerome, by making them Class officers. Our fairy godmother must have been vaccinated with a phonograph needle, for we certainly had an illustracious group of competent speakers. Audrey Franklin, and James Levensohn impressed the Prize-speaking audience with their declamatory abilities, and Edith Sundell made such an impression on the Judges that she won Prize-Speaking for us. Frances Kahle and Al Stein participated in "Captain Applejack" to the entire satisfaction of everyone. Rob Potter, Bill Jerome, and Frank Boles taught Red Grange how to play football, while Gentle, Hall, McGrath, Potter, and Sims played varsity baseball. Murray, Smith, and McGrath were sure point-winners for the track team, and Jerome and Oberhauser helped win the Meehan Trophy in the Interscholastic Swimming Meet. Hall, Conway, and Fitts represented us on the ice, with Ed Sexton and Dick Mullowney playing on the tennis team. Dot Whelan, Aimē Bourneuf, and Helen Wingate played first-string field hockey. The Wingate sisters and Helen McEttrick were again the stars of the swimming team, and Ruth Carl, Berthale Hawk, and Natalie Hall played tennis. After such a strenuous year, you can appreciate how much we enjoyed our summer vacation.

Realizing that our Junior year was to be more active than any previous term, we settled right down to work. Why, the only amusement we had for two months was an occasional crossword puzzle in the Sagamore Gone are the crossword puzzles of yesteryear We elected Riccy Gentle, President, Barbara Hall, Bill Rowley, and Charlie Cole as Class officers, and proceeded to enter upon a career of remarkable accomplishments. Violet Griffin, Audrey Franklin, Alice Murphy, Martha Bird, Arnold Ackiss, and James Levensohn attained the highest honor at B. H. S., the Honorary Society. We were well represented in Dramatics by Frances Kahle, Al Stein, Peg Helmbold, Dick Sears, Arnold Ackiss, Wendell Jacquith, Alice Murphy, Wildur Willing, Alden Berman, Bill Jerome, Bill Steeves, and Charlie Wirth. We gave the most successful series of socials ever given by a junior Class, due to the modesty of our girls: why, they were so modest, they had to go to the locker room to change their minds! Violet Griffin, Sam Brown, Jim Levensohn, Ed Sexton, and Harold Singer represented us on the Sagamore; and Ruth Barron, Alice Murphy, and Levensohn participated in Prize Speaking. The band, with one or two exceptions, consisted of musicians belonging to the class of '26. The Four Minute Speakers who upheld our record in that field constituted a quorum for that body, while Alice Murphy once again made the Interscholastic Debating Team. Our teachers grew to like us so much that they asked the School Committee for an extra half-hour of our company. Much to our joy, permission was granted for our detention in school until two o'clock. This added pleasure, however, did not harm athletics; in fact, that extra half-hour spent with the Faculty seemed, in some strange way, to have inspired our athletes to greater courage and ability. Al Stein, Bill Jerome, Roger Gleason, Riccy Gentle, and Roger Phillips won letters in football, after playing Newton to a scoreless tie. Andy Murray, Vin Hennessey, Ed McGrath, Eric Smith, Joe Sims, Cy Potter, and Ed Kingsley were consistent scorers for the track team. Bert Gleason, Jim Mackey, Bill Jerome, and Lester Phillips helped once more to make Brookline King in the scholastic swimming world. Bob Hall played hockey; and Charlie Cole and Heath Ruell pulled winning oars for the crew. Eric Smith, Dick Mullowney, Pepper, and Ford were on the tennis team. Ricey Gentle, Bob Hall, Ed McGrath, and Joe Sims swatted the horse-hide around for a good place in the surburban League standing. We had an ample share of girl athletes in the Wingate sisters. Aimē Bourneuf, Helen McEttrick, Barbara Hall, Ruth Carl, Helen Horgan, and Eleanor Daley. Feeling satisfield that we had covered ourselves with glory in extra-curriculum activities, we then proceeded to prepare for final exams, and for College Boards. We did not want to leave our Alma Mater for the long vacation of two months, but we were compelled to accept it by the School Committee, on the grounds that we were on the verge of a nervous breakdown.

We certainly could stand a great deal. Returning to school in September, we entered upon the last lap of our mavelous career at B. H. S. We were greatly flattered by the presence of a great many eminent members of the class of 1925, students who had been graduated but who had preferred to remain behind with us as post-graduates. It's getting near your bed-time now, so I'll have time to tell you only about the outstanding events and accomplishments of the year. We elected Andy Murray, Class President, Barbara Hall, Vice-President, Sam Brown, Treasurer and Hal Singer, Secretary. Alice Murphy became President of the Girls' Glee Club, while the orchestra had a very successful season with John Slavin in charge, and Marion Clark as assistant-chief. Alice Murphy and Wallace Fowlie won for us the honors in Prize Speaking, but were pressed for first place by Ruth Barron and Dave Alper. The Honorary Society opened its doors, in the fall, to four of our classmates, Al Stein, Anthony Wax, Wendell Jacquith, and Hal Singer. We are the first and only class at B. H. S. that has been recorded for four years in year books. Well, we deserve it, for a football team consisting of Taglino, Truden, the Gleasons, Stein, Phillips, Morrison, Gentle, Norris, Tonra, Hennessey, and Frost, for the first time in many years, beat Newton! We cleared over $400 on the Senior Social. The acting in "Such a Little Queen," of Rena Mercer, Al Gerstein, Itch Cohen, Paul Sherbert, Charlie Watson, Frances Kahle, Brooke Maury, Al Stein, and Wallace Fowlie enabled us to add over $1000 to the Boys' Scholarship Fund. The Senior Dance was a fitting climax to the social season. The Sagamore was put on a firmer financial basis than ever before, due to the fine work of Violet Griffin, Audrey Franklin, Betty Sherril, Alice Murphy, Gertrude Jewett, Bud Gustafson, Phyllis Summers, Sophia Forbes, Peg Helmbold, Dave Alper, Sam Brown, Herb Henchel, and Harold Singer. After the mid-year exams, Ruth Barron, Dot Rollins, Marion Clark, Wallace Fowlie, Dave Alper, and Herb Henchel appeared wearing the Alpha Pi keys of the Honorary Society. The track team almost won the State Championship by the fine work of Murray, Hennessey, McGrath, Sims, and Potter. The swimming team did win the Interscholastic meet through the ability of Mackey, Phillips, Gleason, Jerome, Maury, and Oldfield. McGrath, the Gleasons, Howe, Hall, and Norris played baseball, while members of our class played on the tennis and golf teams. By such a brief resume of our four years at B. H. S. you can easily see how———say—! Wake up there! young 1930!

(Old Man looks over at Youth, and upon seeing him fast asleep, wakes him up by a rude shaking, and then continues)

Well, youngster, although my talk seems to have been wasted upon you, it surely has done me a great deal of good to look through these extracts from old Year Books, and to revive the happy memories of those four years at Brookline High School. Well, come on up to bed!

(Youth and Old Man leave the stage.)

Class Prophecy

HERBERT HENCHEL
Prophet

RUTH BARRON
Class Prophetess

TIME: 25 years hence.

PLACE: Fifth Avenue.

Newsboy: (Rushing on stage shouting): "Extra!" "Extra " "All about the great Mercer murder!!"

(From one side of stage enters Herb Henchel; from opposi e enters Ruth Barron, at the same time, both purchasing papers from newsboy. Becoming so interested in the news, they bump and instantly recognize each other as old class mates of 1926.)

Ruth: "Herb, did you see this?"
Herb: "Why, no! What's up?"
Ruth: "Just listen to this!"

(Headline). ONE HUNDRED COPS IN MERCER HUNT

An armed posse consisting of William Adelson, Willard Hatch, George Humphries, and Edmund Burke, aided by the world famous trio of policewomen known as: Vera Glaser, Ann Rosen and Rose Christie, is trailing the suspected slayers of Rena Mercer, famous Broadway actress, starring in Eric Smith's play, "Oriel, Where Art Thou?"

She was last seen in the company of the producer, Herbert Henchel, whose whereabouts is now being sought. Another suspect is a tall ra'her good-looking man found found near the theatre unconscious by Harold Jacobs and James Day who keeps muttering, "I love the Queen!" He answers to the description of Albert Gerstein, Miss Mercer's leading man.

Herb: (Headline). FOUR ARRESTED FOR PROMOTING ANARCHY.

Richard O'Brien, Abraham Cohen, Stephen O'Brien, and Israel Cohen, known as the "DEADLY FOUR" have at least been captured by Charles Cole, Captain of the New York police force. Assisting Captain Cole were Frank Bennett, Arthur Clapp, Samuel Burgen, and Alfred Ochiltree.

Ruth: DEFICIT IN FEDERAL FUNDs.

A suspicious deficit in Federal Funds has been reported by Samuel Strong Brown, U. S. Treasurer, whose newly acquired Rolls-Royce has attracted much attention.

Herb: FAMOUS FRENCH NOVELIST'S WORK BARRED FROM U. S.

"La Gaie Vie de Paris" by Monsieur Wallace Fowlie has been declared unsuitable for American publication by Professor Wendall Jacquith head of "Watch Your Step Society." He was bitterly attacked by Fowlie's publishers James and Robert Bain.

Ruth: EXPLORERS RETURN.

Another epoch in history was added today when the Bernadine Truden Expedition returned. This expedition was composed of young women only, who desired to discover who the man in the moon is. This daring feat was accomplished by Dorothy Carlyle, Esther Coburn, Dorothy Files, and Marion Kneeland. Much to their amazement they discovered that the man in the moon is none other than a member of their own class 1926, one Andrew Murray, who in his efforts to get up in the world has at last attained this high position.

Herb: (Turning page) LATEST BOOK REVIEWS.

"Why Girls Leave Home" By Charles Watson and Charles Cowles, "So's Your Old Man" by Gertrude Jewett, "Why Men Leave Home" by Anne Collins and Esther Leavitt, "What College Did to Me" by Wilma Small, "The Answer to a Maiden's Prayer" by Robert Goodale, " Me and the Boy Friend" by Ruth Carl, "How to Win at Bridge" by Alice Canfield, "Always Right" by James Levensohn, "The Worthlessness of The Female" by James Truden, "Vanity Fair" by Alexander Beal, "The Little Minister" by Al Stein, "The Strolling Saint" by Harlow Lent.

Ruth: HIGH SCHOOL ASSEMBLY.

At an assembly of the Brookline High School, Headmistress Eleanor Daley asked the pupils to follow the wonderful example set by the Class of 1926 by supporting the Far West Relief. She then introduced the Misses Christina Finlayson, Constance Cutter, and Margaret Gordon, all of whom spoke of the wonderful missionary work being done in the West by Barbara Umlah, Margaret Webster, Catherine Cowles and Sophia Forbes. Miss Daley also announced the appointments of new teachers who are: Miss Barbara Forbes, English; Esther Wort, Spanish; Nataline Hale, Chemistry; Sarah Whittam, History; Elizabeth Letzing, Algebra; Esther Wilkins, Latin and Lillian Westfall, Athletic Director.

Herb: SOCIETY NOTES. Edited by Miss Martha Bird.

NOTABLES ON WAY ABROAD.

The Class Poem

ALICE MURPHY
Class Poet

OUT OF THE DARKNESS

I walked, one summer evening, on the beach,
In that gray, dusky, hesitating hour
That marks the death of day; the sun's last rays
Glanced, golden, on the water—and were gone.
Pacing, alone, beside the restless sea,

Torturing doubts ached thru my tired brain:
"Is life a true, a noble, worthy aim,
To be fulfilled and glorified in; or rather
A structure of illusions, built on lies,
The lies themselves illusions? Truth or falsehood—
Which is the greater, which one rules the world?
This very day has been a glorious thing
Vibrant with blue and gold, warm with delight.
What is the fate of its ensnaring beauty?
The fiery sunset smolders into ashes,
And the dim twilight is engulfed in night.
If death is the inevitable end,
What matter how we reach it, when, or why?"
Wearied, at last, with futile questioning,
I bowed my head, oppressed by dull despair.
A moment later, looking up again,
I caught my breath, and gazed with dazzled eyes:
Far out across the waters rose the moon,
Spilling her silver glory on the sea.
Higher and higher, up the path of heaven
She passed, until she held her rightful place,
Queen of the sky, crowned in her own pure light.
And as I looked I knew my doubts were answered.

"Truth is the sun of life; illusions, mists
That veil its vital beauty from our sight;
The dead day rises, luminous again,
Out of the darkness, when the sun has set."

Oration

JAMES LEVENSOHN

CLASSMATES and Friends:

Many, many years ago, long before the pages of history had begun to dry, a great though gentle spirit taught the world the story of Faith, Hope, and Charity. Centuries have since passed and the great truth has come down to us a guide, a torch lighting the way to better understanding. Although the world has interpreted these words in their original meaning, we here today, the Class of 1926, as we enter into a new sphere of life, must give unto them a broader, more modern significance. As our forefathers stumbled up their thorny paths, entering a brighter world from some more darkened past, we, too, stand at another milestone. We step out more firmly, striding forth with the higher pulsating vigor of youth, fortified now with the new Faith, the new Hope, the new Charity.

Our view point is not that of the challenge not that of a boastful spirit, nor is it that of the suppliant, begging his way, but rather it is that of clear-eyed high resolution, that of an unconquerable spirit of nobility of purpose, that of a definitely determined effort for achievement of what is best in life.

Our faith in our parents and our past is deep, our belief in ourselves and our future is profound. We cannot lose faith in the final efficacy of parental sacrifice. Have they not deprived themselves that we might have? Again, what faith in human friendliness and cooperation our teachers have instilled in us by their unselfish and valuable labor. We have faith also in that most variable element, human nature, for, despite many of its deviations, we are sure that it has a tendency toward eventual good rather than evil. Hence, we have faith that those endless mysteries about us, guiding us where we know not, are bearing us toward the better way—the higher plane.

Standing firm with this Faith in our hearts, let us face our futures with a great spirit of hope. The past four years, we trust, have not been spent in idle speculation; we hope that in accordance with our abilities, our high school career has furnished a solid foundation upon which must now be built a new structure of greater strain of greater weight.

Let us hope that we start life with a more powerful impulse toward accomplishment, with a keener mental and spiritual realization of the world about us, recognizing true values—sorting the wheat from the chaff. Let us trust that we ever carry with us a true sense of proportion—a real understanding of right and of wrong. Let us resolve that our courage will remain high to a carry us through periods of darkness—of trial and of doubt. And, last, let us pray that we do not lose sight of the existence of ideals, the urge for loftier endeavor as the turmoil of materialism closes in upon us.

As our lives are bound securely by Faith and our spirit buoyed up by Hope, so is existence made complete by Charity.

We must realize that Charity does not exist merely as the passing of doles to the needy or a word of solace to the distressed, Charity must be viewed in a broader sense.

We must learn to see things—not alone according to our own way—but through the eyes of others. We must regard the sincere viewpoints of others as tolerantly as our own. We must try to understand and make allowances for the short-comings of others. Perhaps lack of natural ability—or of limitations of circumstances have prevented their use of such advantages as ours.

We must be more hesitant to accuse unjustly. We must try to weigh evidence before rendering decisions and do not believe that we alone can be dispensers of justice.

Here must we rub away the sharp edges of inexperience and become possessed of that mellow spirit of humility which truly makes us regard our neighbors as ourselves.

Fortified—armored—girded with the powerful sword of Faith, the bright shield of Hope, and the pliable gauntlet of Charity let us face our new day—the tomorrow—showing the world that new leagues of youth are approaching, prepared to take up the battle of life where it is and with the Faith, Hope, and Charity of today can take our places in the ranks of achievement.

James Levensohn.

Music by Wallace A. Fowlie.

The hour has come for parting; We leave these dear old halls, To

Thy spi-rit lives with-in us, It fills our hearts with fire En-meet the scenes, untried, and new, Where Love and duty calls. And yet we'll ne'er forget thee, Nor ever fail to try In every scene and walk of life, To honor Brookline High.

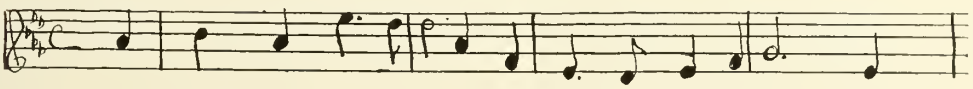
get thee, Dear Alma Mater true; Our act our me-rit, word and deed Shall be thy true honor due.

Refrain.



Dear Brookline High forever! Our hearts and hands to thee! And may this class of twenty-six, Thy lasting glory be!

The Class of 1927

THE year has been a success in every way. The members of the class have been prominent in all club activities in the school curriculum. In the field of sport our girls, as well as boys, have upheld the honor of the Red and Blue. The Junior Socials have more than proved their worth not only financially, but also socially. They have, moreover, created a splendid feeling of cooperation among the committee, the faculty, and the students. We look for even greater accomplishments along every line in the future so that the Class of 1927 may continue to boost and not to boast.

To those with whom we have been associated for three years, we extend our most hearty good wishes. May they find life all that their desires have painted it. In our turn we hope to uphold the standards which they and all other Senior Classes of the Brookline High School have made so worthy.

HERBERT A. WOODS, President.

The Class of 1928

IN October the Sophomore Class held its elections, choosing Gerald Vachon, President; Louise Brown, Vice-President; Edward Brown, Secretary; and John Jewett, Treasurer. Daniel Rollins and Louise Brown served as marshals-elect to the Teacher-Student Council and to the Court of Justice.

In the late fall the Sophomores gave a reception to the incoming Freshman for the purpose of making them better acquainted with those with whom they are to be associated for the next three years. This has been the only social event for the class this year, but it more than accomplished its aim.

The Sophomore Class has had on the Various Varsity teams a number of candidates, some of whom were members of the football team which defeated Newton. Numerous others were participants in Track, Hockey, Baseball, Tennis and Crew, all cogs of a great machine which cannot function without the aid of everyone.

We, the Class of 1928, are about to move into our Junior year and as we gaze back over the many events that have occurred with this short year just past, we feel safe in saying that the Sophomore Class has played an important part in every event that has made the year such an enjoyable one. May every member of the Class of 1928 cherish the ideal of making a more creditable record next year than we have heretofore established; may every member keep up this good work so that when the class leaves the portals of Brookline High School; it will be said that 1928 was the greatest class ever graduated.

The Class of 1929

THE class of 1929 numbering 472 students entered Brookline High School on September 14, 1926. After the members had become acquainted, the class elections were held and the following officers were chosen: Francis Hall, President; Elizabeth Jacobs, Vice-President; Barrett Roberts, Secretary; Joseph Lynch, Treasurer. The elections of the marshals followed. These were held in the home rooms and of those elected Barbara Ensign and Francis Hall were chosen to represent the class in the Teacher-Student Council and Pauline Miller and Francis Hall in the Court of Justice.

The class has been well represented in athletics and in other activities of the school. The class hopes always to make itself worthy of the Brookline High School.

Honorary Society

THE coveted key of Alpha Pi has been won, this year, by many well-deserving and hard-working students. In fact, they have displayed what the name signifies—Excellence and Leadership. Starting with seven members at the beginning of the term, the Society has increased its membership—to twenty-two. Further recognition has been given to worth-while organizations, and an effort has been made to raise the low marks of many students.

The society itself corresponds to the College Society, "Phi Beta Kappa," but has, in our estimation, an added feature over that remarkable institution. Not only is it necessary to obtain good marks to earn Alpha Pi, but it is also compulsory to have participated in school activities.

Since the Honorary Society was founded in 1916, membership in it has been recognized as the highest possible honor attainable in the school. Students of low grade have always been denied admission.

A clear field to the goal now lies before each student, and it only remains for each one to take advantage of his opportunities. Membership in Alpha Pi is the greatest achievement to be made in Brookline High School.

TEACHER-STUDENT COUNCIL

STANDIG: Mr. Jewett, Mr. Harbour, A. Murray, H. Woods, G. Vachon, F. Hall, Mr. Packard. SITTING: P. Miller, B. Hall, L. Brown, B. Cushing, Miss Sawyer, S. Brown.

The Teacher-Student Council

THE Teacher-Student Council is the legislative body of the school. There are eighteen members in all: nine teachers and nine students. Each year the faculty elects seven teachers, while the Dean of girls and the athletic coach automatically become members.

The faculty members this year are: Mr. Kepner, vice-chairman, Miss Sawyer, Miss Jane Perkins, Miss Lewis, Mr. Packard, Mr. Whittemore, Mr. Harbour and Mr. Hines.

A representative of each class is elected from the marshal force every year. The four class presidents and the captain of the marshals automatically become members.

The student members this year are: Betty Cushing, chairman; Louise Brown, secretary and treasurer; Barbara Hall, Andrew Murray, Samuel Brown, Herbert Woods, Gerald Vachon, Pauline Miller and Francis Hall.

COURT OF JUSTICE

Court of Justice

THE Court of Justice is the judicial branch of the Student Government in the school. It has for its members a Chief Justice (chosen by the school), the presidents of all four classes, and a member chosen from the marshal body of each class. A ninth member is a faculty advisor who speaks only when she feels it is necessary or when called upon for her opinion in the matter.

The court handles all cases of student discipline which are referred to it by the headmaster, the president of the Teacher-Student Council, or the captain of the Marshals.

Rowley, D. Whelan. FIRST: G. Cleaves, B. Roberts, F. Wilder, F. Cummings, L. Elliot, J. Jewett, R. Marshal, H. Humphreys, J. Gray, P. Meade.

The Marshals

THE Marshals comprise what is know as the executive branch of the Student-Government.

They are elected before the close of school in the spring from the Junior, Sophomore and Freshmen classes which will be the Senior, Junior and Sophomore classes respectively the following fall. They take office immediately on the opening of school in September and serve for one year. The Freshmen Marshals however are elected from the incoming class the first week in October.

It is the duty of the Marshals to enforce at all times the regulations of the school and the Teacher-Student Council regardless of whether or not they are on corridor or lunch-room assignments. The assignments are issued for two weeks, every second week a different shift going on duty.

Since the formation of the Student-Government plan eight years ago, the Marshal force has consisted of fifty-one students including the Captain. But this year because of the establishment of additional marshal posts in the corridors and the complication involved by the double recess periods, it was deemed necessary to increase the number of marshals by the addition of twenty new members; five from each of the four classes, making seventy-one altogether.

Each Marshal wears insignia which consists of a bronze bar pin with the word Marshal on it. This pin is worn at all times. In order that the Marshals on traffic duty may be more readily recognized, it was thought advisable to equip them with arm-bands, which are worn only during the time of their corridor assignments.

The Marshals wish to thank the entire student body and the faculty for their helpful cooperation in making the Student-Government a real success.

SAMUEL S. BROWN, Captain of Marshals.

SENIOR ADVISORS AND OFFICERS OF THE GIRLS' LEAGUE

FOURTH: R. Herman, R. Barron, M. Kneeland, N. Hale, G. Gustafson, A. Bufford, M. Howard, F. Wingate, B. Sherrill, A. Murphy, M. Helmbold. THIRD: H. Conway, L. Westfall, M. Clark, M. Niland, M. Delano, B. Truden, G. Jewett, H. Moreland, S. Whittam, D. Pons, K. Moreland, C. Winchester, E. Nicholson, H. Richardson, C. Finlayson. SECOND: K. Cowles, D. Rollins, V. Griffin, B. Hall, Miss Sawyer, A. Centervall, L. Brown, H. McEttrick. FIRST: M. Murphy, D. Files, P. Rowley, D. Jones, D. Round, A. Franklin.

The Girls' League

THIS year the League has been gaining momentum for its continuation and has been more active than for some time past. They have had several speakers, given entertainments, and remembered many sick girls of the school. The terms of office run from February to February and the former officers: Barbara Hall, president; Alexandra Centervall, vice-president; Dorothy Rollins, secretary-treasurer, were succeeded by Alexandra Centervall president; Louise Brown, vice-president; and Marianna McAfee, secretary-treasurer.

Talks have been given on business, art, and professions, which were greatly enjoyed. This varied field helps many girls in their choice of future work and explains about the employment itself.

The ideals of the League are expressed in one word—Friendship. All the girls have the common bond of the High school, whether they are socially or athletically inclined, and they must not forget that. Freshman girls transferring from other schools, and other lonesome individuals, find the League very much of a cordial factor in their new surroundings.

The girls are most enthusiastic over the year's accomplishment, thanks to Miss Sawyer, their best and most ardent supporter.

ALEXANDRA CENTERVALL, President.

DRAMATICS

Charles Wirth, Malcolm Hagar, Eliot Remick, Harry Healey, Paul Sherbert, Frances Kahle, Brook Maury, Richard Sears, Rodman Shippen, Israel Cohen, Rena Mercer, THE QUEEN; Albert Gerstein, THE KING; Alfred Stein, Roger Smith, Isabel Murphy, Hope Kelsey, Wallace Fowlie, Thomas Chandler, Stanley Levine.

Dramatics

THE play "Such a Little Queen," a modern play in four acts, by Channing Pollock, was chosen by the committee to be the production for 1926.

With Rena Mercer '26 filling the title role and such people as Albert Gerstein, Israel Cohen, Charles Watson, Alfred Stein, Malcolm Hagar, Frances Kahle, Brooke Maury and Paul Sherbert to assist her, the townspeople of Brookline were entertained by probably the best production that the school has ever given.

The cast, however, does not deserve all the glory for the remarkable performance. In the first place, Miss Potter, the coach, and Mrs. Hughes, her assistant, are to be complimented for their success. Then came the numerous committees, who, although the audience does not see them, are just as essential and deserve as much credit as the cast.

The faculty committee consisting of Miss Lewis, Miss Allen, Mrs. Henderson, Miss Pease, and Mr. Zanzig, supervised the entire production. They were assisted by James Adam in the capacity of Stage Manager, Harold Singer as the Business Manager, Paul Smythe as Electrician, Charles Wirth as Property Manager, Herbert Henchel as Costume Manager, and LeRoi Brereton as Scenic Director.

Since the new auditorium has been in use we lack but one thing in our dramatic productions and that is adequate lighting facilities. We have an abundance of talent, we have one of the largest and best stages in all New England, but whenever we get ready to give a play, we are obliged to hire floodlights and a spotlight. Isn't there some way by which the clubs interested in the use of the stage can procure this equipment without having to hire it each time?

SAGAMORE

REAR: P. Meade, E. Sexton, H. Cave, D. Alper, M. Bronstein. CENTER: S. Forbes, B. Sherrill, E. Serber, G. Gustafson, A. Murphy, G. Jewett, M. Helmbold, A. Franklin. FRONT: V. Griffin, Mr. Jewett, H. Henchel, S. Brown, J. Gray Miss Willgoose, H. Singer.

The Sagamore

THE Sagamore has just completed a very successful year. The Board have not only managed to improve the school paper by using more pictures and cartoons than ever before, but they have left the Sagamore on a really firm financial basis. They take great pleasure in announcing that the treasurer's books show a balance of $100.

The Sagamore has grown and expanded very gradually during the past four years. It has been interesting to watch the development of the paper, from the issue of four years ago, so carefully planned regarding expense, to the splendid Newton football issue which was published this year. It is fitting that gratitude be expressed to Mr. Spaulding who rendered such helpful advice during the Autumn issues.

Moreover the interest of the school in the Sagamore has increased greatly. This was made evident by the abundance of poems and short stories which have appeared in current issues this year.

The position of Faculty Advisor to the Sagamore is a thankless task. We wish to take this opportunity to express to Miss Willgoose and to Mr. Jewett our appreciation of their untiring and congenial collaboration throughout the past year.

PRIZE SPEAKERS

STANDING: M. Bronstein, D. Dangel, R. Barron, D. Alper. SITTING: G. Lakson, W. Fowlie, A. Murphy.

Prize Speaking

THE thirty-third annual program of the J. Murray Kay Prize Speaking was held in the Auditorium, January fifteenth, at eight o'clock. The orchestra Mr. Zanzig directing, furnished the music for the evening. The coaches, under the leadership of Mr. Snow, were Mr. Priest, Mr. Swift, Mr. Godkin, Miss Adams, Miss Hannon, Miss Bliss, and Miss Jane Perkins. Four boys and four girls took part in the program and the order was as follows: Morris Bronstein '27, Gertrude Lakson '29, David Alper '26, Ruth Barron '26, Mark Mackey '28, Dorothy Dangel '28, Wallace Fowlie '26, and Alice Murphy '26. The judges were Miss Florence Lincoln, Mr. Francis L. Bacon and Mr. J. Louis Keegan, members of the faculty of various greater Boston schools and colleges. The prizes, fifteen dollars' worth of books to be awarded at the graduation excercises in June were given to Alice Murphy '26 for her selection "Pyramus and Thisbe", and to Wallace Fowlie '26 for "Bombardment". Honorable mention was received by Ruth Barron '26, Gertrude Lakson '29, and Morris Bronstein '27.

FOUR-MINUTE SPEAKERS

FIRST: J. Jewett, A. Bronstein, G. Cowee, H. Armington, R. Stone, R. Marden, R. Lett. SECOND: H. Idell, A. Brash, V. Glaser, Mr. Harbour, C. Finlayson, M. Delano, A. Franklin. THIRD R. Wolper, C. Kornberg, B. Finn, R. Stonehouse, E. Rittenberg, J. Feffer, E. Serber, C. Ziman, C. Helman, J. Levy, L. Wilkinson. FOURTH: J. Adams, P. Jaquith, M. Bronstein, J. Levensohn. FIFTH: E. Friedman, H. Mode, J. Walker, M. Bresky, M. Norwood, E. Cornett, M. Dodson.

Four-Minute Speakers

THE current year has been an exceptionally rich one in athletic and social functions; and as in past years, the four-minute speakers have given devoted service to the school.

In fact so much work was placed upon the group that it was deemed necessary to add several new members and to their credit it can be said that their work was most effective. They always counted it a privilege to boom any occasion, for, when the occasion was a success, they felt that they had had a good share in making it so.

The senior speakers feel content in leaving this organization in the hands of the lower classes, who can be relied upon to carry on the good work.

Girl Scouts, Troop 11, Brookline

TROOP II is the oldest in Brookline, and has always been called the High School Troop, although it has never been officially connected with the school until this year.

With Miss Poland as Cap'ain, and Ruth Richardson, a former student, as Lieutenant, the following officers were elected: Barbara Forbes and Mary Kelly as Patrol Leaders, Margaret Comstock, Secretary, and Elise Richardson, Treasurer. Weekly meetings are held in Shailer Hall. Various interests claim our attention from candy pulls and tied dye-work to over-night hikes.

At the request of Miss Sawyer, the Troop has taken complete charge of the Emergency Room this year.

An attempt is being made to establish a fund for a girl's scholarship which is to be given yearly as follows:

1st. To that girl, a member of the Troop, whose scholarship, attendance and need warrant such aid. But if no such girl applies—

2nd. To that girl scout, not a member of the Troop, whose scholarship and attendance and need warrant such aid. Or if neither of the aforementioned apply—

The Domestic Science Club

AT a meeting of the Domestic Science Club held November 5, 1925, the following officers were elected: Eleanor Mitchell, President; Gertrude Brenn, Vice-President; Alice Ford, Secretary; Helen Kelley, Treasurer. By popular vote the day of meeting was changed from the first Thursday of the month to the second Wednesday.

In November a very interesting talk on "Jelly-Making" was given by Miss Ida Ratzhoff of Colorado. The December meeting falling on the anniversary of the birth of Ellen Richards, the founder of the American Home Economics Association, a sketch of her life was presented. Because of midyear examinations in January, and the great blizzard in February, the Club did not meet. In March there was an entertainment in Shailer Hall; in April, a play was staged; and in May, a party closed the year's gatherings.

There are many talented girls in the Club, all of whom have contributed of their best toward its success. The Domestic Science Club extends to Miss Smith and Miss Jones thanks for their work and help during the year.

The Art Club

THE Art Club, like the other organizations, has had a numerous following.

It has visited many of the great exhibitions such as Sargent's, Woodbury's and Mezquita's. One activity of the club was a party. This had fine results, and showed the enthusiastic co-operation of the members.

May next year's club have as successful a year.

JUNIOR SOCIAL COMMITTEE

STANDING: J. Gray, B. Wade, Mrs. Nasymth, Mr. Taylor, Miss Parker, Mr. Harbour, Miss O'Brien, C. Stevens. SITTING: L. Lane, H. Perry, B. Cushing, H. Woods, E. Lee, F. Wilder, N. Boles. FRONT: L. Brereton, F. Boles, D. Parker, B. Adelman, M. McGrail.

The Junior Social Committee

THE Junior Class, through the wonderful spirit and sense of cooperation of its social committee, enjoyed a most successful year. The committee gave the school socials that were on a par with, if not better, than those of other years. The cooperation and whole-hearted way in which the members worked was clearly exhibited throughout the year. The manner in which the affairs were conducted shows the efficiency of a truly remarkable group. The members of the faculty were so helpful that it is no wonder the Committee has met with such success.. This group of people will very likely distinguish themselves next year in the social activities of the class, but they have made a lasting impression in the annals of the Class of 1927.

BAND

THIRD: H. Cossitt, A. Ackiss, E. Andrews, S. Freedman, E. Woods, H. Seigel. SECOND: R. Smith, A. Freedman, D. Goldman, L. Clark, H. Carver, Mr. Zanzig, H. Mack, J. Slavin, R. Potter, James Adam, Jr. FIRST: Mr. Smith, M. Norwood, E. Abbey, M. Upton, C. Scott, B. Jacobs, P. O'Day, P. Jaquith.

The B. H. S. Band

AT the first of the year when our band was organized its future seemed doubtful. Its first appearance in public was at the Newton-Brookline football game. It made a brave attempt and everyone knows how through Mr. Zanzig's efforts the band helped to spur our team to victory. For a time, there were no band rehearsals and it looked as though there would be no band. But Mr. Zanzig was not to be daunted and he desired to give B. H. S. a band that would open poeple's eyes. He accordingly set about to re-organize the band. Paul Jaquith was elected President and the band began again, this time to make a name for itself. They have played at several assemblies. At present the members are rehearsing faithfully for Class Day and their intentions are to make B. H. S. proud of its band. Here's wishing it the best of luck for the future!

PAUL JAQUITH, President.

ORCHESTRA

THIRD: R. Potter, E. Witt, D. Rollins, J. Ryan, L. Elliott, J. Slavin, F. Bennett, Mr. Zanzig, Miss Snow, Mrs. Griffin, N. Blake, V. Griffin, P. Bencks, D. Whitney, F. Hall. SECOND: M. Norwood, M. Lind, D. Lutz, C. Scott, M. Linsky, M. Harris, K. Murray, M. Clark, R. Olans, M. O'Neil. FIRST: H. Cossitt, J. Hannon, G. Hooper, E. Andrews, J. Fitzpatrick, J. Murray, P. Jaquith.

Orchestra

UNDER the able leadership of Mr. Augustus D. Zanzig, the Brookline High School Orchestra has made a creditable showing this year, both in school activities and elsewhere.

Early in the season they had the privilege of a broadcast from the radio station WNAC, while later they played at both the J. Murray Kay contest and the annual dramatics.

The orchestra was honored by having two of its members chosen for the National High School Orchestra which met in Detroit early in April. Mr. John Slavin was their only representative, however, as Miss Vivian Ward was unable to attend through sickness.

The members feel that much credit is due Mr. Zanzig for the time which he has given for their performances.

JOHN SLAVIN, President.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

FIRST: J. Smith, M. Hardy, N. Allen, G. Broadhurst, K. Ure, F. Buxton, C. Driscoll. SECOND: N. Rose, M. Smith, B. Hamilton, Treasurer; A. Murphy, President; A. Centervall, Vice-President; J. Sherbert. H. Idell, M. Healy. THIRD: E. Handberg, N. Mallows, M. Upton, M. Kneeland, C. Finlayson, Mr. Zanzig, M. Comstock, B. Sherill, F. Connelly, M. Reid, E. Serber. FOURTH: I. Brandies, L. Wilkinson, M. Dunn, C. Stevens, B. Cox, H. Kelsey, R. Wood, E. Smith, B. Stonehouse, C. Ziman.

The Girls' Glee Club

THE Girls' Glee Club has enjoyed its usual successful season under the capable leadership of Mr. Zanzig. A large membership was enrolled in the fall, and the officers elected at the end of the previous year took charge: Alice Murphy, President; Alexandra Centervall, Vice-President; Marianna McAfee, Secretary; Betty Hamilton, Treasurer. Regular weekly meetings were held from October to May.

The Club sang at the Norfolk County Teachers' Convention, the Fathers' and Sons' Night at the First Baptist Church in Brookline, at the Evening School Graduation, the Brookline Music School Concert, the Christmas Festival, and the Christmas meeting of the French Club. They also broad-casted Christmas carols from WNAC.

That the social side might not be neglected, the annual Glee Club party was held in Shailer Hall on April 16th and proved a great success. The Club extends its hearty thanks to Mr. Zanzig for his untiring work as musical director during the year.

ALICE MURPHY, '26, President.

GIRLS' MANDOLIN CLUB

FRONT: M. Hardy, K. Cowles, M. Dunn, B. Truden, D. Hudson, A. Rechil, J. Smith. BACK: N. Allen, E. Sundell, E. Wort, B. Cox, K. Allen, P. Harrison, M. Linsky, M. Abrams.

The Girls' Mandolin Club

THE Girls' Mandolin Club held its first meeting early in September when several new members were admitted. The first engagement was at a luncheon of the Brookline Friendly Society at the Town Hall. Since, there has been regular weekly practice. The membership, the largest for several years, totals at present fourteen, there being represented six mandolins, two banjos, two violins, three ukeleles, and a piano.

The club is proud of its successful season and hopes that the undergraduates will continue the good work next year.

BERNADINE TRUDEN '26, President.

The French Club

THE main purpose of "Le Cercle Francais" is to create more interest in France and in the French language than can otherwise be created in the classroom and to afford the pupils a greater opportunity to use the language. This is the sixth year of its existence and the officers and teachers seem to consider it a very successful one.

As the membership has increased greatly, it has been expedient to prepare a different kind of entertainment from that of other years. Illustrated lectures have, therefore, been prevalent. At the opening meeting Miss Gambrill delivered a lecture on a trip on the Seine, and M. Morize of Harvard University lectured at the January meeting on the history of Paris. It has been the custom in the last few years to have the entertainment for one meeting furnished by the French classes in the grade schools. The precedent was continued this year.

At each meeting a French atmosphere was easily discerned, and it was interesting to note the enthusiasm with which the under-classmen greeted these meetings. Their interest was so keen that the Christmas party was put in their hands and proved a great success.

The officers hope that this year has perpetuated the high standard of work which was accomplished in former years, and most heartily wish the club greater success in the years to come.

FOOTBALL

FOURTH: H. Myerson, R. Smith, R. Frost, H. Woods, J. Wray, J. Tonra. THIRD: Faculty Mgr. Woodlock; T. Norris, B. Gleason, J. Truden, F. Taglino, F. Boles, Mr. Whittemore. SECOND: R. Gentle, R. Gleason, Mr. Akers, Captain J. Meegan, Coach Hines, R. Phillips, A. Stein. FIRST: V. Hennessey, Mgr. Oldfield, J. Morison.

Football

THE football team of 1926 was an organization of which the school was proud. The team stood high in the suburban league, scoring 66 points to the season's opponent's 41 points. More than this, for the first time in nine years it defeated our dearest rival, Newton, with a final score of 6 to 0.

Captain "Jodie" Meegan was the real Brookline leader, whose fighting spirit had much to do with the success of the team. He was the all-scholastic choice of six Boston newspapers.

The season was the most successful that Brookline has enjoyed for many years, both from the scholastic standing of the large squad and the support of the school and the townspeople.

The Kiwanis Club of Brookline will be long remembered by the entire squad for the splendid banquet which it gave in recognition of the good work accomplished by the team in 1926.

The success of the players throughout the season was a tribute to Mr. Hines, whose untiring effort and indomitable spirit were an inspiration to his team.

BASEBALL

STANDING: H. Summers, H. Sovrensky, V. Rentello, J. Hurley, H. Nyhan, J. Steele, G. Gore, V. Nessin, E. Densmore. MIDDLE: Mr. Whittemore, E. Cole, R. Werner, J. Ryan, B. Steverman, X. Matison, J. Cannon, J. Conroy, T. Regan.

Baseball

THE Baseball Team has enjoyed a fairly successful season under Acting Captain MacGrath, having won seven and lost six games. The Team has been handicapped this year by a lack of pitchers, but two valuable prospects have been found in the Freshman Class which makes a brighter outlook for next year's team.

TRACK TEAM

Track

THE 1926 track season was one of the best that Brookline High has had in many years. At its four dual meets the team was compelled to bow only to the Alumni and then just by a close margin. This year's track team was the best supported one in the history of the sport.

The team included ten letter men and a state champion, Edward McGrath, premier school boy dash man, Eric Smith, high point scorer and 300 yarder, and Richard Gentle, who equalled the world's record for the 45-yard high hurdles, the bright lights of the aggregation.

Through the excellent work of Mr. Hines, director of athletics, many valuable prospects for next year have been developed. Mr. Hines is especially anxious that more of the Freshman and Sophomore boys should come out for track.

The team and its director are certainly to be congratulated on the fine record made this year.

SWIMMING

STANDING: Mgr. H. Henchel, J. Lynch, J. Coutts, B. Maury, Faculty Mgr. Woodlock. CENTER: Director of Athletics Hines, F. Bennett, W. Oldfield, B. Gleason, R. Fay, E. Malkin, M. Mackey. SITTING: M. Ford, J. Rae, Mr. Akers, Captain J. Mackey, Coach J. McNamara, L. Phillips, E. Densmore.

Boys' Swimming Team

BROOKLINE High School's swimming team went through another undefeated schedule which culminated in winning the Lieutenant George R. Meehan Trophy Meet with the greatest number of points ever to be scored by any team in that competition.

The first meet of the year, the Annual Inter-class Meet, was won by the Junior Class. Coach James McNamara was able to select from this competition a varsity team which defeated Boston English High School, Malden High School, Brown University '29, and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology Freshman.

At the end of the season, Lester Phillips was elected to succeed Captain James Mackey. Phillips was high point scorer with 40½ points over his nearest competitor, Brook Maury with 34½ points. The letter men for 1926 are Captain James Mackey, captain-elect Lester Phillips, Thompson Brook Maury, Edward Densmore Jr., John Rae, Bertram Gleason, Martin Ford, Ralph Fay, John Lynch, Wilbur Oldfield, John Coutts, Francis Bennett, Edward Malkin and student-manager, Herbert G. Henchel.

The swimming team was given a banquet and presented with medals, symbolic of the New England Inter-scholastic Championship by Mr. James P. Mackey Sr., a prominent local merchant.

All credit for the team's splendid showing is due to Coach James McNamara who, handicapped by ineligibilities and lack of material, nevertheless, developed a no-star team which, for the sixth out of a possible seven times, brought the Lieutenant George R. Meehan Trophy to the halls of Brookline High School.

HERBERT G. HENCHEL, Student Manager.

HOCKEY

STANDING: Coach Leo Hughes, B. Gleason, R. Phillips, R. Gleason, Mgr. F. Boles. SITTING: A. Haid, H. Nyhan, Captain H. Woods, J. Meegan, H. Fogerty.

The Hockey Team

THE 1926 Hockey Team has not been a champion team because it has been altogether composed of new members, with the exception of Herbert Woods, acting captain this year and captain of the 1927 team.

We had a new hockey mentor, Mr. Leo Hughes, formerly of the B. A. A. His aim was to teach the fundamentals of hockey. In a way, therefore, we have had a successful season in that the team of this year, with the exception of one, will next year have the experience of veterans. It was indeed gratifying that so many took advantage of this chance to learn the game of hockey.

We were sorry that Captain Bob Hall could not play with us, as he would have been a boon to the team of 1926.

CREW

BACK: W. Adelson, B. Maury, L. Reuell, W. Kaufman, B. Eynon, E. Goldfine. D. Kadetsky. SECOND: C. Copeland, A. Beal, Assistant Manager S. Burr, Coach J. Sullivan, Manager H. Goodale, S. Jacobs.

Crew

THE crew started its season with four letter men; Heath Reuell, Roger Whitman, Charles Miller and Captain Goullaud, but due to the resignation of Mr. Nicholls, the crew was without the services of a coach. However, they secured Mr. John Sullivan, former St. Alphonsus A.A. oarsman and three times holder of the New England Sculling Championship, to fill that capacity. The services of the coach are being supported by subscription from the school.

The crew has races scheduled with Stone School, Springfield High, Huntington School, Browne & Nichols, Cambridge Latin and the Harvard Regatta.

The most promising squad that has appeared for years signed up and a successful season is anticipated.

ERIC GOULLAUD, Captain.

TENNIS TEAM

STANDING: A. Simmers, Mr. Nash, H. Pepper, J. Pattee, E. Sexton. SITTING: F. Blanchard, J. McLaughlin, R. Mullowney, R. Goodale, C. Gutman.

Tennis

IN behalf of the tennis team, I am pleased to say that we have before us the prospects of a successful season.

Owing to the lack of interest shown in tennis last year, we decided to run two teams of seven men each in order to develop men for future Brookline Tennis Teams and to create greater enthusiasm for the game.

Although we have a difficult schedule, I feel that we shall go through the season without a defeat because of the high calibre of our players.

HENRY PEPPER, Manager.

GIRLS' FIELD HOCKEY

STANDING: N. Hewitt, R. Maybee, J. Densten, L. Brown, Coach Sherman, E. Densten, P. Roberts, H. Schoolcraft, H. Navin. SITTING: D. Sanborn, F. Roberts, Captain Hall, Mgr. C. Densmore, B. Lawton, H. Kelsey.

Girls' Field Hockey

FIELD HOCKEY is a very popular sport among the girls. This year a larger number than ever before tried out for the teams. Most of them had never played previously, but in spite of this fact, a fine team was chosen. Although, in our games, the season was unsuccessful, there is excellent material for next year, and a winning team should result.

BARBARA HALL, Captain.

GIRLS' SWIMMING TEAM

THIRD: R. Maybee, M. Decker, M. Craig, B. Wade, L. O'Day. SECOND: E. Morrison, E. Lee, J. MacNamara, Miss Kelley, A. McGrail. FIRST: P. Roberts, H. Gould, C. Densmore.

Girls' Swimming Team

THE Girls' Swimming Team of 1926 has, so far, had another successful year. Many of last year's group, including Esther Morison, Alice McGrail, Louise O'Day, Helen Gould, and Ethel Lee were out for work. Weekly practice started early in December under the instruction of Coach McNamara. The team was chosen with Esther Morison as Manager, and Ethel Lee, Captain.

The first competition was the interclass meet, the honors being won by the Juniors. In a meet with two other schools, Pawtucket and Concord, Brookline scored the highest number of points. Return meets with these schools are scheduled to end our season.

The girls' team still holds the record of being undefeated.

ETHEL LEE, Captain.

GIRLS' GYM TEAM

THIRD: F. Roberts, E. Nelson, K. Cowles, D. Dangel, L. O'Day, M. Craig, Miss Kelly, Instructor; A. McGrail, B. Freyburg, L. Sullivan, E. Bennett, R. Malkin. SECOND: M. Maher, H. Gould, M. Taglino, J. Sherbert, C. Densmore, Captain; L. Wilkinson, J. Morison, M. Lynch, L. McMurray. FIRST: E. Morison, H. Mode, M. Stein, M. Maher, M. Abrams, E. Lee.

Girls' Gym Team

THE Gym Team had a short but entirely successful year. A very creditable team was chosen from the large number of girls out of it by Miss Kelly aided by Miss Weston.

The only meet was held at Brookline with Concord. Although the Concord girls have improved a great deal since last year, nevertheless Brookline repeated last year's victory.

Two interesting and exciting interclass meets were held. Both of these were won by the Sophomores led by Esther Morison. The other classes were captained by Lily McMurray, Seniors; Ethel Lee, Juniors; Eleanor Roach, Freshmen.

CAROL DENSMORE, Captain.

The Chess Club

THIS year's team has had exceptionally good support from the members of the club and accordingly has produced good results. In a Suburban League, they finished second, a great improvement over last year, when they finished last. In fact, they lost only one match and that one was to the winners of the league. The majority of the team is of the Junior class; in addition, much time was devoted to developing the Sophomores and Freshman. These facts lead us to entertain still greater hopes of winning the championship and getting a leg on the trophy next year.

As to the club, a special room was set aside for its use. There was playing practically every afternoon and instruction from several teachers two or three times a week. There has been more response from the school to this organization and there are possibilities for its membership increasing rapidly in the future. Indeed, the Honorary Society gave recognition to the team.

In most of the games, the line-up was as follows:

M. Bronstein	L. Davidson	J. Levensohn
H. Canada	D. Alper	D. Goldman
	B. Maury

May the team win the championship next year!

JAMES LEVENSOHN, President.

Golf

AT the first call for candidates for the golf team, ten players responded of whom there were four veterans from last year's team: Richard Mullowney, Edward Langenback, Lundie Steele and James Conway (Captain).

The golf team is looking forward to a most successful season, for although golf is not a major sport in our school, we hope that we shall be able to have a perfect record with the teams we play. The matches we have obtained for the coming season are with Newton, May 3; Exeter, May 8; Fessenden, May 13; Reading, May 17; and Andover, May 22.
